Planning for Inquiry Creating a Unit of Study

Inquiry is a powerful instructional approach that when used by teachers provides significant opportunities for increasing student engagement, insight and depth of understanding.

Participants will review the inquiry cycle presented in Inquiry Learning I and will have an opportunity to work with a planning model to design an inquiry unit for immediate use in the classroom.

Outcomes:

Participants will deepen their understanding of Inquiry Learning as it relates to the renewed Saskatchewan curriculum.

Participants will examine professional supports needed to integrate inquiry learning into classroom practice.

Participants will use an Inquiry Planner to articulate the components of an inquiry unit. This will include:

- Identifying the big ideas in a unit of study
- Linking outcomes and indicators
- Creating Essential Questions
 - teacher-guided questions
 - student-guided questions
- Designing instruction and assessment strategies to engage learners in all phases of inquiry:
 - Tuning In
 - Knowledge Building
 - Investigating
 - Sharing Understanding
 - Reflection and Action
- Identifying and Locating Resources

Cost: $94.50 (GST included)
Includes lunch and materials
